BOTTLED LITHIUM.—When used for Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Lame Back, Neuralgia, Sprains, Bruises, Contracted Muscles, Rigid Joints, Croup and Croup in Infants, and Spavin, Ring Bone, Galls, Scalds, etc., on animals, Compound Lithium is unequalled, and its effect is almost instantaneous. As its name suggests, it is quick to relieve, and therefore bears witness to its astounding virtues. Price 50 cents. For sale by McRoberts & Stagg.

FLORIDA, OUR LAND OF FLOWERS.—A throng of sufferers with coughs and colds are going South to enjoy the ethereal mildness of the land of flowers. To them we would say that the necessity of that expensive trip is obviated by Consum's Compound Honey of Tar, which speedily cures the coughs and colds incident to this rigorous climate. For public speakers it cures the Demagogue's regimen of "pale and rawboned," clearing the throat till the voice rings with the silvery cadence of a bell. Use Consum's Compound Honey of Tar. Price 50 cents a bottle. For sale by McRoberts & Stagg.

THE little son of Mr. A. McKimby is lying dangerously ill at his home.

MR. ANDREW T. STANLEY has gone on a visit to friends at Winchester.

MISS BETTIE SCOTT, of Harrodsburg, is a guest of Miss Julia Patton this week.

MISS JULIA CRAIG, who has been quite ill, has been able to go, mostly recovered.

MISS LARA LACKY has been on a visit to relatives and friends in this county.

MR. W. B. CALDWELL, of Louisville, has been visiting his sister, Mrs. C. H. Rochester.

MISS JANE W. BOUT has returned from a very pleasant visit to her mother in Missouri.

MR. D. B. KENNEDY has gone on a visit to his father, Dr. J. B. S. Fisk, at Louisville.

MR. S. S. KENNEDY is filling the office of Circuit Clerk during Mr. Edmonson's absence.

MR. J. W. ALAN, with his children, is visiting his father, Judge Kendrick, at Somerset.

MRS. SARAH FRANKLIN and her pretty little daughter, Maud, have returned from Philadelphia.

MISS RALPH FORTER, of this county, was a guest of Miss Sarah Hahn, at Danville, last week, during the Fair.

MR. W. H. ANDERSON has returned from his prospecting trip of Kansas and Missouri, delighted with the country.

MISS MOLLIE OWEN, of this county, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. C. Davis, at Danville, during the Fair last week.

MISS RALPH FORTER and RHOBA HALL, are attending the South Kentucky Baptist Association in session at Middleburg.

MR. JOHN C. DAVIS, with his sister, Mrs. Wm. Fowler, left on Tuesday for a visit to Mrs. Wayne Houston, at Campbellsville.

MISS BETTIE AND BETTIE PATRICK and Miss Lucy Burton, accompanied by Dr. Lee F. Hoffman, are attending the Liberty Fair.

MASSIE D. B. EDMONDSON and J. S. HOFFMAN, attended themselves of the late and here gone on an excursion to Niagara Falls.

MISS RUTH DEAN, the attractive daughter of Mr. M. N. Deane, of this county, returned on Friday last from a short stay at Danville.

MR. A. J. HARRIS and wife have moved to the house lately occupied by Mr. F. J. Anthony, he having gone back with his family, to the St. Asaph Hotel.

MR. GOVERNOR BLACKBURN, Mrs. Louisville, of Memphis, and Miss Thompson, a handsome belle of St. Louis, were guests of Col. C. H. Rochester this week.

MISS E. M. MIDDLETON, of Danville, a student in the Louisville High School, and a graduate of the law library at Louisville, is a guest of Judge G. A. C. Rochester.

DR. J. M. THOMPSON, of Stanford, Va., President of the Virginia Immigration and Emigration and Manufacturing Co., and editor of the Waynesboro, a scientific monthly, is a guest of Mrs. M. D. Edwards.

The contents of the only two Standard ladies at the Governor's Ball were given to the Louisville Sunday Express as follows: Mrs. Col. T. F. Hill, black silk and pink trim; Miss Annie Cooper, same with black trim; Miss Annie Cooper, same with black trim.

MISS THOMAS G. REBERT, of the Clark County Democrat, Chen E. Kinsaid and Charles Burton, of the Anderson News, and Prof. M. C. Allen, of Lexington, called at our office, en route to the Governor's Ball. They were out at home to welcome them. Call again.

MR. J. W. MALLORY has succeeded, at last, in testing himself from Cumberland Falls, and is now at home. The varied attractions of the place, coupled with the sweet smiles of a Lebanon beauty of wealth and many accomplishments, were, we confess, more than sufficient inducements for his protracted visit.

MR. CRANE was the best driver here at the Fair. He went out with a hired driver the other day, and took his position at a favorite "stand." The driver showed around a short time, and, finding no game, mounted back to his home. Seven hours afterward, Jim was found at his stand—determined to kill a deer, or die on the spot. He was taken back to the hotel and a blister applied to the back of his head.

LOCAL MATTERS.

THE FEMALE COLLAR building is being handsomely painted.

The Richmond Fair Excursion train passes at 7:05 A. M., and returns at 7:15 P. M.

THE CAMEY FAIR—Is in progress, and we will try to send ourselves of Dr. F. O. Young's kind invitation to be present.

A WORD TO THE WISE.—If you don't settle your account with Mr. J. N. Davis within ten days, you will stand a splendid chance of being warranted.

THE STAFF ASSOCIATION—Is in session at Danville. The attendance is rather limited, but sufficient for an interesting and profitable meeting.

BORN.—On the 10th inst., to the wife of John H. Dawson, Jr., a son; weight 10 pounds. On Saturday last, to the wife of Forester Reid, a girl.

PENNSYLVANIA.—Capt. W. F. McKinney, of Company K, 19th Kentucky regiment, wounded during the late unpleasantness, has received a voucher for his arrears, amounting to $1,153.67.

A DEERSTALKER TRIBUTE.—The boy of Stanford has purchased a fine portrait of Gen. F. L. Wolford, and will present it to the old veteran at the Casey Fair, today. W. H. Miller has been selected to make the presentation speech.

HOUSE AND LOT FOR SALE.—Mr. J. N. Davis offers his splendid home, on Main street for sale. It has just been completed and is one of the finest residences in or near town. Terms liberal. Address or apply to him at Stanford, Ky.

A SNAKE STORY.—Mr. D. L. Stephenson, of this county, killed a water moccasin make this week, which, on being cut open, was found to contain over one hundred little snakes, ranging in size from a darning needle to a lead pencil.

COLORADO EXCURSION.—W. H. Mason, Berry Hooker & Co., of this place, are managers of a colored excursion train that will run to Cincinnati and Covington on the 23d. Train will leave Danville Junction at 6:20 A. M., and return at 9 P. M. Fare $2.50.

CHRISTIAN COLLEGE.—Prof. J. S. Rebert, of Somerset, has secured the College at Hustonville, and will open Sept. 28th. The Professor is well respected by the best citizens of Somerset, and holds testimonials from the leading men of the State as to his ability as a teacher. "Ad" next week.

LAD OF THE SHEEP.—Notwithstanding Bobbitt's assertion that the Democratic party could not beat him with a poor man, Gooch went in by a majority of 211. Defeated by a poor man, and one whom he asserts has not sense enough to find his way to Frankfort, Bobbitt with all his cheek will never again disturb the body politic in this county, notwithstanding his claim that he is forever laid on the shelf.

DICK'S RAY 80.—Samuel W. Williams, now confined in jail at Lancaster, for the murder of Thomas Burns, in May, 1876, publishes a card in this week's Faith, denying that he told a Course-Journal reporter that he recognized George Kennedy in the mob that hung Floyd Pierce on the night he escaped from jail. He says that the only mention he made of Kennedy was, that he was a brother-in-law of the man whose throat Pierce had cut.

ESCAPED CONVICTS.—John Ferrell, who was convicted last Spring by the Circuit Court and sent to the Penitentiary for life, for the murder of Sutton, under the cold, blooded circumstances, and who made his escape last week, has been locking in the Knicker Crab Orchard. He has the jury that tried him had have done their duty fully, Ferrell would have long since dangling from the end of a rope, instead of being loose, seeking whom he may destroy.

BELL ACQUITTED.—About 12 years ago, a negro boy was missing from Hustonville, in this county, whose name was Tom Carpenter. Last week Mr. Walker Bell was arrested and tried before an examining Court here, charged with the murder of the negro. After an investigation, the two Magistrates, Carson and Putman, said that the Commonwealth had failed to prove that Mr. Bell was the one who committed the murder, and they at once set him at liberty.

THE M. A.—The success of the Manufacturers' Agency firm of Geo. H. Bruce & Co., has been almost unparalleled in Stanford, and it is but another evidence of what vim and enterprise, coupled with the motto of "the best goods for the lowest prices" will do. To make room for their large stock of Fall and Winter clothing, etc., already ordered, they have made a still further reduction in their prices, which were surprisingly low before. Call on them and you will find that they can not be undersold.

NO FURTHER COMPLAINT.—Our people have no cause to make further complaint of hard times. The harvest is abundant, and prices for every thing the farmer has to sell are good. No one of our agricultural friends can complain. Now, above all other times, that class of men can congratulate themselves. Now is the time to buy goods for the Fall and Winter. We are assured by the house of Hayden Bros. that if their old friends and customers will call on, and buy of them, they will get such bargains as were never before offered.

HELD FOR KIDNAPING.—For a long time past the people of the Sugar Creek neighborhood, in Garrard, have been greatly annoyed by the thieving propensities of several families of negroes who live in their midst, and, tiring of their doings, a number of the best citizens got together and, in the day time, without make, went to the houses of the negroes and gave them ten days to leave the country. The negroes, at the advice of some of their white allies, swore out a warrant against the men, thirty-one in number, who were tried before Justice Boyle and sent on to the Circuit Court to answer the charge of kidnapping.

THE TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.—Detailed by our Hustonville correspondent, in which J. R. Lucas was shot and instantly killed by his brother-in-law, J. C. Johnston, appears to have had its origin in some alleged misunderstanding of the estate of Mr. Wm. Lucas, which J. B. Lucas, as agent for his mother, who is executrix, without security, was closing up, and as to the guardianship of Mrs. Twidwell's two children, for whom Mr. Lucas was guardian. At a recent term of court, Johnston moved that the executrix be required to furnish bond, and upon her failure to do so, asked that an administrator be appointed. The motion was granted, and Mrs. Lucas was required, in a certain time, to make the bond. Since and before then, Lucas and Johnston have been enemies, and the fatal termination of their quarrel is sadly to be regretted. The fact that young Lucas was murdered at the time of his death shows that he was apprehended no serious trouble, going, probably, on the presumption that Johnston was too timid to shoot. Lucas was a young man of many fine traits of character, and was a general favorite among those who knew him. The charge against Johnston, as fixed by the examining court, is manslaughter, and bail allowed at $1,500, which was readily given, with Florence Yowell, Col. J. W. Weatherford, Burnett Cloyd and Samuel Johnston, as sureties.

THE FAVORITE.—Most of the Stanford Bar have signed a petition favoring Hon. Wm. Lindsay, for Judge of the United States District Court, made vacant by the death of Judge Ballard. The President will make an appointment for some time. Hon. M. M. Benton, of Covington, it is said, stands the best chance for the position.

THE GOVERNOR'S BALL.—At Crab Orchard, last Friday night, was one of the grandest occasions of the kind ever attempted at that popular resort. Every thing exceeded expectations, which is generally the way when Shelby Tuck is in charge. Colonel Isaac Shelby tells us that on Friday night, Aug. 23d, a Phantom Ball will be given, which he is determined shall be also a grand affair.

GOOD NEWS FOR ALL.—When our readers are informed that they can save money, we are sure that they are willing to listen to any one who will tell them truly, how they can save it. We have something to tell every reader of the Interior Journal, and that is, if they will go to Hayden Brothers and buy their goods from this time on, they will be able to save at least 25 per cent. The foregoing is not written as a puff for the house of Hayden Bros., but simply for the purpose of informing our readers of a good and safe place to use their money.

DISGRACED.—Angus Bridgewater, who was sent to the Penitentiary from this county for three years and eight months for robbing the jewelry store of E. R. Chennault, having served his time, was discharged last week. There are several other cases against "Bridge" in the Circuit Court, but it seems to be the general impression that the old fellow has suffered enough and that he ought to be allowed to spend the few remaining years of his miserable life in seeking forgiveness from a High Power. He was foreman of the mill in the Penitentiary, and is said to have deported himself well while in confinement.

ACQUITTED.—Contrary, it is said, to the circumstantial evidence adduced at the examining trial and the testimony of a medical expert of Louisville, who made an analysis of the stomach, and swore that there were strong traces of arsenic in it, Mrs. Gooch, accused of the poisoning of her husband, George Gooch, and her mother, Mrs. Louisa J. Wallis, arrested as an accessory to the crime, were acquitted by the examining Court in Casey, last Saturday. Palumbo was also acquitted. If the testimony against the women is as strong as reported, the Grand Jury will be apt to have a say in the matter.

SOUTHERN CALENDAR CLOCK.—The gentlemen agents of the Southern Calendar Clock Company, now canvassing this section, are, as we expected, meeting with fine success. The clock is pronounced by judges to be the most perfect piece of machinery of the kind, ever invented, and is the cheapest and most reliable time piece ever offered to the public. The "Fashion Clock" is the very thing for our farmers and business men, and the way they are taking hold of them shows that they appreciate the chance. The headquarters of Mr. H. C. Lynch, manager of the agency, will be at the St. Asaph Hotel till October 1st, while his agents will canvass this and surrounding counties.

THE GREENWOOD COAL MINES.—In company with one of the clever proprietors, Mr. J. R. Crooke, we had the pleasure a few days ago of an examination of these mines, which are situated immediately on the line of the Cincinnati Southern R. R. about 20 miles below Somerset. The veins are from 3 to 4 feet thick, and the coal is of most excellent quality, resembling considerably the famous Kanawha coal. A large quantity of coal has already been mined and is awaiting shipment, but the R. R. Company will not be able to transport it before October 15th. The proprietors have arranged every thing in the most approved style, and in doing so, have used up $65,000. They are pushing men, however, and will get their money back in a few years, with good interest.

CUMBERLAND FALLS.—After a ten days sojourn at this delightful resort, we are again at our post, ready to tell all about it. Our companions of yore go and returning, were our better-hall, and Hustonville's fairest, Misses Kate B. Williams and Anne B. Cooke, and the roughest of all trips after leaving the railroad, was forgotten in the general good humor that prevailed. On our way thither it was our good fortune to meet our old friend Mr. M. O. Gorman, now general manager for Huston & Co., and to him we are indebted for an enlightening hand-car ride from Cumberland River to Greenwood. Mr. Gorman is one of those warm-hearted fellows that can not do too much for a friend, and his attention to our party will never be forgotten. At Greenwood, the "Flower of the Earth," Lark Edge, met us with a Spring-wagon, and after fifteen miles of bumps and thumps, we were landed at the great Falls of the Cumberland. The jolly welcome of Mr. A. S. Myers and the polite attention of Mr. Socrates Owens, the proprietors, made us feel at home and ready for a thorough enjoyment of any and every attraction. The situation is one of the wildest imaginable, and the scenery is grand beyond description. Above the falls are a series of smaller falls, which, while grand in themselves, dwindle into insignificance when compared with the main fall of 65 perpendicular feet over a solid ledge of rock. Below the falls, in a beautiful basin, which forms a perfect harbor, and being well supplied with skills, is a favorite resort of the visitors. There are numerous springs of superior chalybeate water, but the one near the Hotel, the Grout and the Eagle spring, are the most visited. The latter is situated at the foot of a thirty foot cliff, over which Eagle Creek dashes headlong into the river, and is regarded by many as the best of the three. The scenery at this point is wildly romantic, and as a young lady expressed it, "make you feel like loving and making love to every body you meet." These waters produce a voracious appetite, which is hard to appease even with the excellent fare for which the place is noted. Fishing and deer hunting are the favorite pastimes of the gentlemen, and sixty-five pound "cat," five pound bass, and well-fatted deer frequently reward their patience and exertion. The walks among and around the cliffs, the baths, cold plunge and shower, the invigorating air, and the pleasantly cool nights, go to make this one of the most enjoyable places to spend the Summer, in the State, and when the railroad connection is better, it is bound to become an important resort for pleasure and health seekers. Even with the poor facilities for getting there now, the number of visitors has averaged forty during the season. We advise every body who can spare the time and money, to make the Falls a visit. It will save you Doctor bills, and give you a better idea of how to enjoy life.

MARRIAGE.—On the 10th inst., Mr. Eugene Oaks and Miss Mary E. Turnbull were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.

HAMPTON-PHELPS.—At Green Street Church, Louisville, on Tuesday, Wade Hampton, Jr., son of Senator Hampton, and Miss Kate Phelps, a refugee from Memphis, were married.

Mrs. Ransom, of Lexington, who published a card denouncing Thomas Moore, who recently eloped with her daughter, was not half so mad as she thought she was. She has forgiven the young man, and promised to do all in her power to assist them through life.

Henry Thompson, an advent preacher of Worcester, Mass., married himself to a young lady in the presence of a large congregation; but the minutes of the law did not like that kind of marrying, and the Rev. Munson was arrested and held in $500 to appear at the next court. He desired to preface his testimony with prayer, and had got as far as "Our Father who art—" when the Justice stopped him. The clerical prisoner retorted: "I can pray in my mind, and may you, Judge, be called to answer to God for this refusal in the great day." He refused to walk to jail, and was conveyed in a cart.

The proprietors of Inwood Park, Cincinnati, to create a sensation and draw a large crowd to a paid picnic last Sunday, hired three couples to marry on the grounds. The programme was carried out and six human beings went through the form of a marriage, to the delight of the assembled thousands. This same departure led to a meeting of the Presbyterian clergy of the city, who resolved that marriages under such circumstances was not only a deprecation of the Sabbath, but is calculated to bring the marriage relation into contempt and encourage immorality, and insisted that the authorities forbid a repetition of the affair. No minister of the gospel who respects his calling will lend his aid to the solemnization of such a ceremony.

DEATHS.

HELM.—Died, on Friday night last, of general debility, Marcus Helm, aged 78 years. He was among the oldest citizens of the county, a man of strict integrity, and a devoted member of the Christian Church. His remains were interred Sunday at McCormack's Church.

RELIGIOUS.

Rev. J. H. Spencer will begin a protracted meeting at Crab Orchard Baptist Church to-morrow (Saturday.)

Since the 1st of January last, the First Presbyterian Church of Louisville, Ky., Rev. Dr. E. O. Guernsey, pastor, has received an accession of 145 members, and in addition, the Church has very largely increased.

The South Kentucky Baptist Association met at Middleburg this week. Nearly all the churches in its charge were represented, and it is said that more than fifteen hundred persons were in attendance, manifesting great interest in the cause of the church.

The only apparent good that has resulted from the Deering Camp Meeting that has been in progress ten days, is four confessions. Rev. Dr. Deems, editor of the Sunday Magazine, and many other eminent leaders, have discoursed, but their sermons had not the revival ring in them.

At the Church-meeting of the Baptist Congregation held last Saturday, a general calling to account was made against the erring members. Dancing and drinking were the principal charges, and one member went out on the latter charge. The case against Mr. A. R. Owen for a little irregularity in Casey, was continued for further investigation.

At the age of 63 and after a Christian ministry of 37 years, Rev. Newman Hall, the great London clergyman, has brought suit against his wife for divorce, on the grounds of adultery. The trial has just closed, and Mrs. Hall having produced testimony showing that her husband is guilty of a like crime, the developments were equal to the Beecher nastiness. The evidence goes to prove that both are guilty. A decree for a divorce was entered.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

Elder Jos. Ballou offers for sale in another column his fine farm on the Danville pike.

G. W. Alföld bought of Nape Teris, one mule for $80 and sold it three days afterwards for $85.

A farmer in Bourbon raised several "Hard Baked" watermelons that weighed 60 pounds each.

E. K. Shewmaker has sold his house and lot on Hustonville street to Amanda Green, for $1,000, cash.

"Edwin Foster" Bonner's fine trotter, stepped over a mile last Saturday in 2:11 the fastest time on record.

All the choice Northern wood in the San Francisco market have been purchased by two Boston houses at 25 cents per pound.

BULL.—A. M. Feiland is still standing his bull, 4th Duke of Oxford, at $5, and all that ever tried to buy are able to pay their taxes.

The receipts of wheat at Cincinnati for the month of July were 1,625,946 bushels against 1,161,720 for the corresponding month of last year.

Taking 100 as a basis of a perfect crop, the Department of Agriculture reports the average apple crop of all the States at 72 and of peaches 64.

R. F. Cliff, of Mason, purchased a carload of cattle and shipped them to Cincinnati. They averaged 1,250 pounds and were bought at 34c.

Bourbon's wheat crop is estimated at 300,000 bushels, of which about 250,000 will be shipped, and which will bring into the county $210,000.

Since March 1st, to date, the total packing of the West has been 2,259,444 hogs, against 2,167,709 head for the same period of last year.

Mollie McCarthy has gone home under training at Saratoga, and her owner has decided to retire her from the turf and make her a brood mare. In the last race that Mollie ran, her owner won $30,000 exclusive of stakes.

Elder S. S. Moore has bought the Will Gaines farm of 150 acres, near Danvers, Fayette county, at $55 per acre, growing crop included.

While in Missouri, W. H. Anderson purchased 500 ewes at $2 per head and shipped them to the farm of Moore & Lytle, near Laeotte, Kansas.

Mr. Joe Spaulding, of this county, bought last week of Felix McCrete 12 head of 2 year old males for $1,200; also, in Taylor county, 50 head of aged males, 4 to 5 years old, at $80.—(Lebanon Times.)

C. V. D. Stout, of New Jersey, continues to buy and ship breeding ewes from this county. He has already purchased 3,000 in Lincoln, at an average of $2.35 per head, and a large number in Boyle. He is a decided favorite with our stock men.

Mrs. O. P. Evans' cattle are afflicted with a very strange disorder. Their hind legs swell up, and in a few days they die. She has already lost four head. Nobody who has seen the cattle has ever before seen any afflicted in the same way.—(Winchester Star.)

S. R. Pennington shipped to Louisville, Tuesday, a car load of cattle and hogs of his own raising. The cattle averaged about 800 lbs., and were young and fat. The hogs averaged 250 pounds. He got 24c per pound for the cattle and 35c per lb. for the hogs.

Col. D. W. Jones' fine cow, Oxford Beauty's Duchess, by 2d Duke of Omeida, out of imp. Baron Oxford's Beauty, dropped a red heifer calf, by 4th Duke of Hildburgh, on the 11th. This is certainly a valuable cow. She is not yet six years old, and has dropped five heifer calves.—(Danville Adv.)

At the Danville Fair, Lincoln took the following premiums: On best mare colt by "Woodford Bay," T. L. Crow, mare, 2-year old, C. T. Sandberg, bull, 2-year old, Jesse P. Riffe, walking ring—stallion, mare or gelding—C. V. Gentry; rockaway horse, G. P. Bright. A number of other exhibitors took certificates.

LOUISVILLE.—Good cattle are in demand at 4 to 4 1/2 for extra shippers. Best butchers bring 3 1/2 to 3 3/4; medium to good, 3 to 3 1/2; thin to common, 1 1/2 to 2 1/2. Hogs sell at $3.50 to $3.75 per cwt., for choice, $3.40 to $3.50 for fair to good; good light, $3 to $3.25. Sheep and lambs of good quality, and ready sale at a shade higher prices. Extra sheep, 3 to 3 1/2 per lb., common, 2 to 2 1/2; extra lambs, 2 1/2 to 3 1/2; common, 2 to 2 1/2.

LEXINGTON MARKET.—From 200 to 250 cattle on sale Monday, with prices depressed. The sales made, ranged from 3 to 2 1/2 cents. There were about 200 mules on the market. Unbroken mules sold from $45 to $75, according to quality. Broke mules from $50 to $115. There was a large supply of pig hogs, mostly sold at prices ranging from $11 to $65 per head. Two hundred and twenty sheep sold at $1.15, and 170 at $1.82.

The Course-Journal, in view of the late fall in the price of wheat, advises the farmers not to break their necks to see who can sell first, as it is bound to be worth $1.25 per bushel by January. The crop is full 50,000,000 bushels less than last year, and the foreign demand is estimated at 100,000,000 bushels greater. Fair to prime wheat in Louisville, is now worth 90 to 92. Weavens & Evans, our home dealers, are paying 80 cents.

LINCOLN COUNTY.

Hustonville.

The planetary perturbations have brought heavy clouds again to the front.

The Casey Fair has the promise of fair weather, and bids fair, with a fair showing fairly to eclipse all competitors, whether viewed in reference to the fair women—a multitude of whom, during the fair, will be with their presence—the fair itself which is thronging thitherward, or the tempting bill of fare got up by the Shakers for the occasion.

On Monday evening, a ragged negro fiddler, calling himself George Kelley, entered the store of W. H. Smith & Co., to make some trifling purchase. As he came out, he quietly slipped off a pocket-book containing about $15, which Miss M. Logan had just laid on the counter. The book was missed almost immediately, and Bob Green, one of the clerks, pursued Kelley, overtook and brought him back to the store. Protesting the most child-like innocence, and proudly offering his pockets for inspection, the search in his pockets revealed nothing; but Bob, who is very young, instinctively sought his home, and there "unearthed the fraud." Kelley was sent to Stanford, Monday night.

DEATHS.—The death record during the last week was unusually large. Marvin Helm, aged over 90 years, a well-known citizen of the county, and a prominent member of the Christian Church, died on the night of the 8th, and was buried at McCormack's meeting-house on Sunday. Funeral services by W. L. Williams.

Miss Emma S. Wright, aged about 70, died on Saturday morning, at the residence of Mr. Winter Wright, a nephew with whom she had been home. Miss W. was born and brought up in the city of London, and migrated to the U. S. in 1852. She was buried at the Mt. Salem Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, according to the forms prescribed in the burial services of the Episcopal Church, of which she was a member.

SHOCKING TRAGEDY.—Joseph B. Lucas was buried at the Hustonville Cemetery on Tuesday, in the presence of a large collection of grief-stricken friends and relatives. His death occurred under circumstances peculiarly distressing. He was shot and instantly killed on Monday evening, by his brother-in-law, J. C. Johnston. There was no witness to the tragedy except Mrs. Johnston—Lucas' sister. The weapon used was a 32-caliber Smith & Wesson, improved pistol. Three shots took effect, either of which would have been mortal, one being in the bowels, one in the brain, and one in the heart—the last mentioned passing entirely through the body. Mr. Johnston is under guard at his residence. The position of his wife is peculiarly trying and critical. In an extremely delicate situation as to health, having witnessed the fall of her only brother by the hand of her husband, holding alone the terrible secret of the fearful tragedy, she is in a most pitiable ordeal. The examining trial occupied nearly the whole day Wednesday, Justice Hughes and Bailey on the bench, Messrs. Miller & Roden for the prosecution, and Welch & Sandberg, for the defense. There was no positive testimony to the act of killing; but a large number of witnesses were examined as to circumstantial evidence. The testimony having closed, speeches were made by each of the legal gentlemen. The decision of the Court was to send up for further trial, fixing the bail at $1,000, which he easily gave.

Daughters College.

At Harrodsburg, Ky., where advertisements appear in this paper, is one of the oldest and most celebrated institutions for the education of women in the State. Many of the most accomplished and
